Chungking, April 23 (P)—American-made Chinese air force planes were operating over Szepingkai at the time the Chinese Communists claimed they had been strafed by United States fliers, General Marshall's headquarters was informed today.

A message from the American member of the Mukden field team said that one Chinese P-51 fighter plane pilot, Lt. Chen, was missing in the Szepingkai operation, and was wearing an American flying suit.

The Communist dispatch had claimed that one of the planes was shot down and the pilot found to be an American.

United States military sources previously declared there were no American-owned planes in the area at the time.

Have U. S. Markings
The officer making the report recommended that the Chinese aircraft, operating from Mukden, which were obtained from the United States, be plainly and permanently marked with Chinese National Airforce identification.

The planes, he said, are still bearing the old United States air force markings covered with cold water paint, which is easily removed.

"The Nationalists charged the Communists have Russians fighting (on the Communist side), and now the Communists are making charges concerning the Americans," the message said. "I suggest the Chinese be asked to mark planes permanently. No American plane should fly north of Mukden without clearance both from the Communists and Nationalists."

The Communist New China Daily News reported today that three divisions of the National First Army and one division of the 71st Army had been attacking Szepingkai since April 18. The dispatch said the Communists still controlled the city, however, up to Saturday.

CHURCHES ADOPT DAYLIGHT TIME; 1 STARTS MAY 5

The churches of Gettysburg will operate on Daylight Saving time beginning Sunday, April 28, a survey revealed today.

The Gettysburg Ministerium recommended the adoption of Daylight Saving time at its meeting about two weeks ago and the ministers announced then that they would adopt the new time next Sunday.

Official action by the Presbyterian church awaits a special meeting of the church Session to be held this week. An officer of the church said that he believed the Session would adopt the new time when it meets this week to conform with the recommendation of the Ministerium.

The Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church, said he would adopt Daylight time on May 5. He said that he overlooked informing his parishioners of the new time at last Sunday's services hence would not make the change until after he makes the official announcement at the three services next Sunday morning.

Others on New Time
The official hour for changing from Standard to Daylight Saving time is 2 a. m. Sunday, April 28.

The three furniture factories, Gettysburg Throwing company and the Victor Products corporation will adopt daylight time next Monday morning.

All the schools of Gettysburg, public and parochial, will adopt Daylight time next Monday morning. Gettysburg college will operate on Daylight time.

The Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary will go on Daylight Saving Time the end of next week. The change will not be made on Sunday because next week is the last full week of regular classes for the current term and the change will not be made until the end of the week. Seminary Week which opens May 6 will be conducted on Daylight time.

Gettysburg's two banks, the Gettysburg National and the First National, will adopt Daylight time Monday morning.

LOUIS J. ALBER IS SPEAKER FOR ROTARY DINNER

"You can not run a great nation like this with mediocre men," Louis J. Alber declared Monday evening to a Ladies' night gathering of the local Rotary club in urging that: "We as Americans cease this worship of mediocrity."

"The men who founded this nation were not mediocre men; they were the largest collection of truly great men that the world has ever known," Alber added. The speaker, who for forty years managed the American lecture tours of such notables as Winston Churchill, Prince William of Sweden, Will Rogers, former President Taft, and others, spoke on "Laughing With the Celebrities."

Alber once had a 20-minute interview with Adolf Hitler, he told the audience, with Goebbels as interpreter, and came to the conclusion that "they were a couple of comics playing with illusions of grandeur. I never was so surprised in my life as I was when I returned to the United States and saw Hitler's picture in the paper with the statement that he probably would be the next chancellor of Germany."

Comic Opera Figures
The interview came about when Alber was in Germany seeking speakers. He tried to get Hindenburg "but talking to Hindenburg was like talking to a wall." Then Goebbels called him on the phone to say he wanted to see him about being a lecturer in the United States. After talking to Goebbels awhile Alber, who did not want Goebbels but was interested in the German youth movement of which Goebbels claimed to be spokesman, asked if there was anyone else who could go on the lecture tour to speak of the German youth movement if Goebbels could not. The future minister of propaganda then told Alber to "see mein fuhrer," Alber said.

Going two flights above Alber's apartment in the Kaiserhof Alber was ushered into the presence of Hitler. Hitler kept looking out the window during the interview, turning to Goebbels each time he had a question and then turning immediately back to the window and (Continued on Page 2)

POLICE ARREST DRIVERS FOR BAD PASSES ON HILLS

In a move to break motorists of the habit of making improper passes on the crest of hills, which has led to a number of accidents recently, members of the local substation of the state police today reported they had nabbed four motorists for making bad passes on the crests of grades.

Arrested on the charge were Russell L. Stem, Hanover, charged before Justice of the Peace Leo Storm, Bonnauville; Gerald Shermeyer, Pittsburgh, J. G. ## BULLETINS

Manila, April 23 (P)—A rumor that he might be kidnapped sent presidential candidate Manuel Roxas scurrying into hiding today as nearly 3,000,000 Filipinos quietly elected leaders to guide them in the years of their independence.

(By The Associated Press)
Sixty-five thousand employees of the Railway Express Agency, Inc., their union president predicted today, will strike at 12:01 a. m. Friday, in a dispute over wages. He said express service will be paralyzed "unless some steps be taken immediately."

NAVY OFFICER OUTLINES THREE DEFENSE PLANS

"No nation is any stronger than its plan for national security," Lt. Cmdr. Herbert E. Bryan, former Andrewsfield school principal who is now attached to the public information office of the Fourth Naval District at Philadelphia, told a joint meeting of the local Lions and Soroptimist clubs Monday evening after a criticism-free description of three plans for unification of national defense agencies.

Taking special pains to point out that he was not criticizing the President, administration policies or policies of any superior officers, Commander Bryan described army, navy and "combination" plans for varying forms of unification of the army, navy and air force.

Speaking from his own experience as a navy officer in helping to plan the major Pacific invasions of 1945, he declared he and others observed a need for cooperation and coordination between the military branches.

Helped Plan Invasions
Emphasizing the long-range importance of an adequate solution to the current unification controversy, he declared: "If there is a World War III, we won't have two years' grace, because we'll be Target No. 1."

Expressing his own opinion as "Citizen" Bryan—and not speaking as a navy officer—the speaker said there is a need for unification of effort by the armed forces "at working level" rather than "at the top." Each branch should be as strong as possible, he said, and not subject to any other branch in its own sphere of operations.

The officer, who described himself to his audience as "not a hero" but one who without having been in a single battle "had his finger" in most major Pacific invasions and in the planning for two contemplated invasions of Japan, served variously as recognition officer with the Carrier Aircraft Service in the Hawaiian area and as executive officer with the Air Combat Intelligence.

Shows Charts of Plans
Pointing out that the army had outbid the navy for medical supplies and for munitions for marine guns on which the navy had outbid the army, the speaker said there is general agreement on a need for unification and correlation of planning and procurement by the armed forces. The form of that unification (Continued on Page 2)

Madame Summer Pushes Mercury Up To 86 Degrees

Madame Summer visited Gettysburg today and the thermometer, flattered by the flirtatious glances of the old girl, ran a temperature of 86.

Most local prognosticators held by their bunnions, the moss on the left side of trees and perennial pessimism that the beneficent climate would not long endure. They hold that the warm weather will bring rain, cooler weather, colds, and loosened mucus in the proboscis which of course will lead to bad dispositions, quarrels, arguments, and the entire town will be upset for a week.

It's getting so a person can't enjoy a good warm day now.

SHROYER AND FRANK SCORE GOP MACHINE

Pennsylvania's "new guard" candidates for the GOP nominations for governor and secretary of internal affairs—John U. Shroyer, recently dismissed state secretary of highways, and J. Calvin "Hap" Frank, Harrisburg city councilman and former football line coach at Gettysburg college—were the principal speakers at a dinner and reception in their honor Monday evening at the Battlefield hotel.

Both men referred frequently to the attack made on "machine politics in Pennsylvania" by former Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer in his opening remarks as master of ceremonies. "Republican voters must decide," Pfeffer said, "whether the GOP in this state must be subject to machine politics and be obliged to accept a ticket thrust upon them by a group of individuals."

"Hap" Frank was presented first as "a man who has displayed a degree of leadership we like to endorse." Claiming to be the only man who ever "slugged his way through the Harvey Taylor machine to public office in Dauphin county," Frank blamed the "regular GOP" machine for party defeats in the state in 1944, and named M. Harvey Taylor, Joseph R. Grundy and G. Mason Owlett as typifying "the class of politicians that must be gotten rid of in this state if we're to defeat the Democratic party."

Cites Road Program

Pfeffer presented Mr. Shroyer with the prediction that he will carry Adams county at the May primaries. The gubernatorial candidate, who came here following a radio broadcast at Harrisburg, described his observation of "machine politics" as he had seen it operate from a "ringside seat at Harrisburg for the last three years."

He declared his intention, if he is elected governor, of carrying out his original highway improvement program "which will put a hard surface on every state-controlled road in the state—while still maintaining and developing the main highways. The rural road building program can be accomplished in three years," he asserted.

Attacking "deplorable state hospital" facilities, he re-stated his plans to build five new hospitals and staff them with "adequately paid personnel." He hit the "absence of a housing program at Harrisburg" and said he favors enactment of legislation to favor insurance companies. (Please Turn to Page 5)

CHINA'S CIVIL WAR REACHING CRUCIAL STAGE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The civil war which has broken out in Manchuria between Chinese Communists and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang government forces is hourly becoming more critical.

There we have a situation that might easily develop into a fratricidal struggle which would envelop all China with its five hundred millions. And this means that it is a terrible menace to our neurotic world.

It is a tense moment. There may be a chance of halting the conflict, but if there is it would seem to rest on the square shoulders of General George C. Marshall, America's special envoy, who has raced back to Chungking from the United States to employ his vast skill as a conciliator in trying to effect a truce. Should this fighting man of peace succeed he will have performed a magician's hat-trick, for the situation is out of hand so far as mediation among the Chinese themselves is concerned.

Better Than Nothing

Of course, a truce would be only half a loaf—but you know the old saying. Actually an armistice would be just the beginning of most difficult bargaining. The cleavage between the Chinese Communists and the totalitarian government of Chiang Kai-shek is wide and deep. Within the ranks of the Reds are the country's most extreme leftists, while supporters of the nationalist government include great vested interests.

These two divisions are as oil and water to each other. Indeed, as this column has pointed out more than once, impartial observers long have felt that it would be a stroke of unexpected good fortune if the issue could be settled without bloodshed.

One thing seems clear: The Chinese Communists, who are exceeding strong in northern China and Manchuria, have every intention of consolidating that under their own jurisdiction. This doesn't necessarily mean that agreement with the Nationalist government isn't possible, for the Communists might be willing to participate in a heavily liberalized federal government which would recognize Communist state-rights in the disputed territory.

However, one of the greatest obstacles to such an arrangement lies in the fact that the Communists are claiming an exceedingly rich area—both in natural resources and development—and the nationalists naturally covet it.

Help from LaGuardia

It's a hard nut to crack, but Marshall brought about one truce between the warring factions, and he may achieve another. Having accomplished that his troubles as mediator will really begin, and in this connection I can't escape the feeling that he may get indirect but nevertheless far-reaching support from an unusual source—F. H. LaGuardia, director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

What I'm driving at is this: China is in the grip of one of the most terrible famines of history. Thousands are dying daily, and many millions are facing death by starvation. Hunger is a breeder of trouble, for there's nothing which can do more to stir passions and render folk incapable of rational thinking.

The UNRRA is shipping food to China, and if the relief gets there fast enough and in sufficient quantities, the easement may be reflected in the political situation, and be equally welcomed by all factions.

SAYS MILLIONS OF YOUTH NEED FOOD TO LIVE

Cairo, April 23 (P)—Maurice Pate, adviser to Herbert Hoover on child food problems, said today that between 20 and 30 million children in Europe urgently need food—"the most poignant human problem in Europe today."

He estimated that two to three hundred million dollars are needed for an adequate supplementary feeding program in Europe and recommended that it consist of at least one meal daily of 600 calories.

Pate, a New York investment banker who headed the Polish Child Feeding program after the First World war, surveyed current child health and food conditions in Poland, Finland, Sweden, Norway, England, the Netherlands, Belgium, Denmark, Germany, Austria, Yugoslavia and Greece.

Poland Is Worst

"The worst conditions were found in Poland, which has the greatest needs," he said in a report submitted to Hoover, honorary chairman of the U. S. Famine Emergency committee.

He said in a press conference that the situation in Germany is practically the same as in Poland, but added: "The Germans are better organizers and are making the best of what they get."

"In the present food deficit countries on the continent of Europe," Pate's report said, "there are approximately 40,000,000 children from infants to 18 years of age living in urban communities."

"Our estimate that over 20,000,000 of these children are seriously underfed and require supplementary feeding veers to the low side."

"From data gathered in various countries which we have surveyed, I estimate that as a result of war, mass killings, vast enforced migrations and famine there are today no less than 11,000,000 orphans and half-orphans in Europe."

apologized for being so "inconsiderate as to rudely step in front" of his car and Mrs. Churchill and their daughter, Diana, took the driver to the theater and staged a party for him.

Elect Directors

William Howard Taft had the best sense of humor of any man he managed, Alber said, although Taft seemed very grave and dignified in most of his addresses. The truest statement ever made by Taft, according to Alber, came when a peace organization before the first World War had to abandon its statements for peace and come out in favor of the war with Germany. There was some discussion among the members of the committee which included Taft when they wrote the statement as to whether the people would believe them. Taft read it, looked as solemn as he could and said: "Gentlemen it is my considered opinion that the people of the United States, after reading this statement, will believe us despite the fact that it is true."

The Ladies' night program was held in the Hotel Gettysburg. During the business session Dr. Chester N. Gitt, Dr. C. Harold Johnson, P. Ward Staalsmith, J. Price Oyler and Ralph Arnold were elected as directors for the coming year. Walter T. Africa was chairman of the nominating committee.

Prior to the address music was presented by Prof. Warren Clark at the piano and his daughter Florence Clark at the marimba. Miss Mary Louise Spangler sang a number of vocal solos accompanied by her sister Miss Jean Spangler.

NAVY OFFICER

is the point about which the controversy revolves, he said.

Using charts, he described features of the Collins, Eberstadt and the more recently disclosed "combination" plans for unification. The Collins plan, army sponsored, is opposed because it reduces by 60 per cent civilian control of the armed forces by giving a single cabinet position for the armed forces, and combines the three divisions of defense under a single chief of staff.

He also described the navy (Eberstadt) plan with three cabinet positions and a National Security Council that would formulate policy. That council would include the President and the Secretary of State. Joint chiefs of staff would serve in an advisory capacity. Provision also is made for a National Resources Board to handle procurement and allocation of natural and human resources.

In the "combination" plan there would be three separate secretariats, all without cabinet rank, with a single representative in the cabinet as Secretary of the Common Defense. It includes features of the navy plan that are made "harmless and useless," he pointed out.

"History Might Repeat"

He emphasized, as he concluded, the dangers to national security of having one man in a position to dominate national military policy. He warned of the danger of overdevelopment of one branch of the armed forces at the expense of the other two—and cited classic historic examples from the days of Xerxes to World War II of instances in which national calamity followed when one branch of defense had supreme control of defense policies. Army-controlled navies spelled defeat for the fleet of Xerxes, the Spanish armada, Kaiser Wilhelm's submarines in World War I and the German and Jap navies in the last war, he said. "History might repeat itself for us, if one branch should become dominant in military control, no matter whether that branch be army, navy or the air force."

Eighty-one Lions, Soroptimists and their guests heard the address in the social rooms of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church. Ladies of the church served the meal. President Glenn L. Bream of the Lions, presided. Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, Soroptimist president, presented members of her club.

Next Monday evening the Lions will entertain their wives at a Ladies' Night program.

LANIER LOOKS IMPRESSIVE IN FIRST EFFORTS

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Max Lanier, a perennial runner-up, is fast becoming the ace of the St. Louis Cardinals' All-star pitching staff after years of playing second fiddle to such big names as Mort Cooper, Lon Warneke and Curt Davis.

The chunky lefthander from Denton, N. C., back from a tour of army duty, has won his first two starts in most impressive fashion to set the pace for the high-flying Red Birds' five-game winning streak.

The lefthander's first effort was a shutout over Pittsburgh on the second day of the season and yesterday he turned back Cincinnati, 4-1, with six hits, Johnny Vander Meer was the loser.

Brooklyn Jinx
Despite Lanier's chucking and the Cards' fifth straight triumph, they were unable to shake off the persistent Brooklyn Dodgers who likewise ran their win streak to five by shading Boston, 5-4, in 10 innings.

The New York Giants resumed relations with the Phillies and got back on the winning side, 7-6, coming from behind to tie starter Tommy Hughes and blasting fireman Hugh Mulcahy for the winning margin.

Detroit found reason to rejoice in the excellent debut of Paul (Dizzy) Trout who blanked Chicago's White Sox, 4-0, with six blows. The dizzy one had been troubled by an aching back last summer but showed no traces of any ailment in hand-cuffing the pale hose.

DIMaggio Does It
Floyd Bivens made his first start in a winning one in hurling the New York Yankees to a 2-1 "squeaker" over Philadelphia's Luther Knerr.

Joe DIMaggio tied the game with a triple in the sixth and scored the winning run on Charley Keller's single a few moments later.

Shortstop Eddie Pellagrini, who got his chance to play when Johnny Pesky was hit by a pitched ball in an early inning, won the game for Boston over Washington, 5-4, with a seventh inning homer.

Although Chicago and Pittsburgh in the National and Cleveland and St. Louis in the American were not scheduled the total attendance for the first complete week of play soared to 1,008,422 with the help of amazing Monday turnout of 24,902 at Brooklyn and 23,407 at the Yankee stadium.

Orrtanna Outslugs Fairfield Nine 15-11

Orrtanna defeated Fairfield 15-11 in an exhibition game played at Fairfield Saturday afternoon as a preliminary to the opening of the Adams County Baseball league next Saturday.

The victors pushed over three runs in the first frame but Fairfield came right back for five tallies off Roy Deardorff. Jim Spence relieved Deardorff and hurried fine ball to give up three hits until the sixth inning when K. Deardorff took over. The latter yielded four runs and was relieved in the seventh by C. Rebert who finished the game. J. Wetzel was the catcher.

Orrtanna scored five runs in the sixth, five more in the eighth and two in the ninth to clinch the game.

Myers, McCanns and Crouse twirled for Fairfield while McClain caught. H. Deardorff connected for a homerun, triple and single while J. Herring poled a double and three singles.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 23 (AP)—Churchill Downs officials are worried because the 15,000 tulips in the clubhouse gardens bloomed early and may not last until the race meeting opens Saturday. . . . The same can be said for a lot of Derby candidates but they can't dig them up and replant something else. . . . Freddie Corcoran's nominations as the best prospects who turned up during the winter golf campaign are two ex-service men, Pete Cooper of Gainesville, Fla., who was third at Jacksonville and tied for second at Charlotte, and Al Smith of Winston-Salem, N. C. . . . They're not to be confused with Harry Cooper and Horton Smith.

NO FUNNY BUSINESS

The wives of two managers of Florida State league baseball teams are breaking into the national pastime this season as business managers of the same clubs. . . . Mrs. Myril Hoag, wife of the former big league outfielder who is managing Palatka, will look after the business affairs of the club and Mrs. Bill Steinecke, wife of the veteran catcher, has the same job with the St. Augustine Saints. . . . which only proves that Myril and Bill won't be able to hold anything out of their pay checks—and that ball players are just the same as most other guys.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Halfway through the spring practice season, the Ohio U. football squad has been reduced from its original 220 to about half that number. And Coach Paul Bixler is moaning that he needs help at the tackles and ends. . . . Bob Reagan, Villanova distance runner, is so confident he can better his time before the Penn relays that he bet Coach Jumbo Elliott a steak dinner on it. . . . But can he run far enough to find the steak?

Packers Lose Star Fullback, Kicker

Cleveland, April 23 (AP)—The all America league has lured its first player from the Green Bay Packers of the rival National League, the star fullback Ted Fritsch, who will do his place kicking and line plunging with the Cleveland Browns this fall.

Fritsch will report for practice August 1, said General Manager and Coach Paul Brown. The salary and terms of the signing were not announced.

The former Packer fullback ranked fifth in National league scoring last season, making eight touchdowns and three field goals. He was the best man in the league last year at returning kick-offs, his average being 34.9 yards. In 1944 he scored both Green Bay touchdowns when the Packers won the National league title in a playoff with the New York Giants.

Stranahan Paired With Bradford Golfer

Pinehurst, N. C., April 23 (AP)—Frank Stranahan, the 23-year-old golf whiz from Toledo, O., whose four-under-par 68 earned medal honors in yesterday's qualifying round of the 46th annual North and South amateur golf championship, squared off today with Larry Dana, Jr. in opening round match play.

Dana, of Bradford, Pa., made the championship flight via a six-way tie for fifth place yesterday, carding a 75 over Pinehurst's rugged 6,879-yard, par 72 championship course. Richard D. Chapman of Pinehurst, 1940 national amateur champion who yesterday was one stroke back of Stranahan, paired off against another North Carolinian, Ed Gravely of Rocky Mount.

CONNIE MACKS SEPARATE OVER STOCK DIVISION

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—Connie Mack and his 70-year-old wife, mother of five of his children, have separated in a squabble over disposition of stock in the Philadelphia Athletics baseball club.

Mrs. Cornelius McGillicuddy—the Macks' legal name—disclosed the separation yesterday and stated emphatically there was no chance for reconciliation.

"Not with me," she asserted.

Mack, in New York with the Athletics, insisted "things will be straightened out in a short time." "I have no comment to make," he told newsmen. "This is a personal matter and I hope people will regard it as private and keep out of it."

Mrs. McGillicuddy disclosed the Macks separated in January after she learned her husband had transferred half the stock he owns in the ball club among his three sons, Earle, Roy and Connie, Jr.

"Life Too Uncertain"

"I learned in October about my transfer of the stock," she said. "I went to St. Petersburg, Fla., in December and asked him about it. He said it would be straightened out in two or three years."

"He is 83, and life is too uncertain to anticipate what may happen in the next two or three years."

Earle and Roy are Mack's children by his first marriage. He married his present wife in 1910. They had a son and four daughters. One daughter died, but is survived by a husband and son.

Mrs. Mack said she returned to Philadelphia from Florida in January and that her husband "sent word he was not returning and that he was sending for his clothes."

In relating the arguments over transfer of the stock, Mrs. Mack declared "the point is that there are nine persons to be considered in this—his six children, son-in-law, grandson and me. And it didn't sound very good when he gave more than half the stock to three of them."

Valued At Million

Unofficial estimates say the Athletics baseball franchise, including Shibe Park, are worth approximately $1,000,000. The Macks own controlling interest in the club with some of the shares still in the possession of heirs of Benjamin Shibe, the A's first president.

Mack has managed the Athletics since 1901. Previously he managed Pittsburgh.

The number of shares of A's stock in existence, or their value, has never been revealed publicly. In the event of Mack's death, Pennsylvania law provides that the widow is entitled to one third of the estate regardless of any provision in the will. This includes not only real estate but stocks, bonds and money in the bank as well.

Billy Fox III, Fight Postponed

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—Billy Fox, 20-year-old Negro light-heavyweight who has won all his 38 professional bouts by the knockout route, was recuperating today from a stomach disorder.

The ebony puncher was in bed last night unable to go through with a scheduled 10-round slugfest with Pittsburgh's Ossie (Bulldog) Harris. The bout was canceled pending Fox's recovery.

Fox fainted yesterday while undergoing a routine physical examination by a Pennsylvania Athletic commission doctor.

Promoter Herman Taylor said he thinks Fox will "be okay in a day or so. If he is, we'll reschedule the fight—probably for Next Monday night."

Top Contenders To Roll In ABC

Buffalo, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—The American Bowling Congress entered its final three weeks today with the Milwaukee Hells still on top in the five-man standings with 2,995.

Among highly-rated contenders on tonight's schedule is the Owls club of Erie, Pa., which has a 995 home average. Also appearing on the 10:30 p. m. shift will be the Carling Beer team of Niagara Falls. Two of its members—Arnold Mooradian and Albert Antonucci—rolled with the Niagara Falls Wolfe Tire Service five, which won the 1935 title with a 3,029 gross.

Standings in the current meet remained unchanged following yesterday's action.

West Has Edge in 1946 Derby

New York, April 23 (AP)—The field for the richest Kentucky Derby of them all rapidly has been rounding into shape lately, and it begins to look as if about 20 gee-gees will bounce out when the starter gives them that "come on, now" at the Downs May 4.

As the jig-saw pieces begin to fit together, the whisper of last fall has become a loud voice—the forecast that the west would hold the big hand when they sit down to that $100,000 pot this year. Of the 20 more or less probable starters only eight hang their hats around the Atlantic seaboard and one in Canada. The west is sporting three from Kentucky, two each Louisiana, Illinois and Michigan, and one each from Ohio and Texas.

NEWSOM IS OUT TO SHOW FANS HE CAN DO IT

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, April 23 (AP)—In shape to pitch for the first time in three years, by his own candid admission, big Bobo Newsom of the Philadelphia Athletics has launched a one-man campaign of vindication against those who slandered his prowess last season.

"They're going to see the real Bobo this season," promised the 38-year-old right-hander who won the title of "losingest" pitcher in 1945 with his 20 setbacks.

"I'm down under 200 pounds again, compared to about 220 last year and my arm feels loose again. I'm gonna win a lot of ball games for Mr. Mack."

Good Thus Far

For once, at least, Bobo would appear not to be just talking. Thus far, in the 14 innings he has worked against the Yankees and the Red Sox, the two heaviest hitting outfits in the game, the garrulous North Carolinian has yielded just six hits and one run, and he chalked up the first two victories credited to the Mackmen.

"I got that Ted Williams twice on change-up pitches," he grunted with satisfaction. "I even slipped a couple of fast balls past him when he wasn't looking for them, but you got to be careful about that. He's a great hitter."

Throws Knuckle Ball

"Only run scored off me was a homer by that Yankee catcher, Aaron Robinson. I got a 3-1 count on him and had to come in with a fast one, else I would have had a shutout. I'm throwing a lot of knucklers now, using it as my change-up pitch. That's the only new thing I'm throwin'. I perfected it last year."

This was the first spring in the past three that Newsom joined the A's in their training camp. The previous two years he "worked out" on his farm until just before opening day, but he concludes now it wasn't a very good idea.

Says Church Can Aid Permanent Peace

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—The Democratic form of government in the United States "cannot live without the church," Governor Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, maintains.

Martin told the Presbyterian social union last night that the churches in the nation by faith and understanding can bring about a permanent peace.

"We are living in a tragic period," he asserted. "America has its faults. These can be corrected by an aroused people. x x x Politicians are urging us to take the easy way. They want us to forget that the way of the faithful is a hard way. x x x Our job is to live and have a government as we individuals would love to have it."

"The first step is faith in ourselves. Next faith in others. Above all faith in God. The church must bring these things about."

OWLS BEAT N. Y. U.

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—Temple university's baseball team clubbed New York university pitchers for 13 hits yesterday to rack up a 6-5 win. The Owls almost fumbled away the verdict in the early innings when they committed four errors.

Brighton, England, April 23 (AP)—Quoting information he said he had obtained from "an American" during his last visit to the United States, Prof. Harold I. Laski declared Sunday that the United States has a new atom bomb powerful enough to "devastate . . . Indiana and Illinois." Five of the bombs could "destroy the whole of the United States south of the Mason-Dixon line," Laski asserted.

PUBLIC OPINION ON OPA SOUGHT

Philadelphia, April 23 (AP)—William H. Chesnut, state Secretary of Labor and Industry, said today "It is high time" a worker should get meat, butter, shorts and a home without 21,000 pages of OPA regulations telling him why he can't.

Chesnut, in a prepared radio address, asked Pennsylvanians "whether you are for OPA, or against it," to tell the state's U. S. Senators—Francis Myers and Joseph F. Guffey—"how you feel about it" now that the House has voted to change the present set-up.

He said production is the key to prosperity because it gives workers jobs, but "how can industry produce when its machinery is clogged with 21,000 pages of don'ts?"

"There are 8,000,000 items manufactured and sold in America," he stated. "No human agency could gather enough information about all these to intelligently regulate their prices."

Asserting the OPA was a wartime emergency measure, Chesnut said "32,000 publicity experts of the federal government can't delude people that there is a war going on now, so the black market booms."

"The OPA is beating its official head against the stone wall of human nature when it tries to break the black markets," Chesnut added.

Jet Plane Travels 7.6 Miles Per Hour

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The army marked Washington down today as just another suburb of New York—less than a half hour's ride by jet plane.

A P-89 Shooting Star covered the distance between LaGuardia Field and National Airport Sunday in 29 minutes and 15 seconds for an average speed of approximately 456 miles an hour or 7.6 miles a minute.

Pittsburgh, April 23 (AP)—Three-year-old Girard Stofft of Carrick climbed on a cedar chest yesterday at his home, tumbled out a window, fell two stories to the ground and died a short time later of multiple fractures.

panies to invest their money in housing developments.

"Siegfried Line"

Referring to present administra- tion plans to "spend millions" for historic developments at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and to "put la- goons and marble ladies in Capitol park," Shroyer suggested that such funds could better be spent on houses for veterans, state hospitals and other urgently-needed state de- velopments.

Returning frequently to his at- tacks on the "long, sticky-fingered machine" that he identified with State Chairman Harvey Taylor, Shroyer declared: "I had to be a Siegfried line between the motor fund and those that would despoil it."

"I'm not a renegade, or dis- grunted, or a sorehead," he con- tinued, "I'm crusading for a free America and a free Pennsylvania."

He repeated his stand for a sol- diers' bonus, increase of teachers' minimum salaries from $1,400 to $1,800 with $100 monthly retirement pay after 30 years of teaching, con- struction of fishing dams on state streams and more efficient conduct of the fish and game commission— all possible, he said, without raising taxes. "Efficient administration is the answer. Our state government should serve the state's 9,900,000 people instead of the 43,000 job- holders. Cleaning out the drones will save 30 to 35 millions of dollars."

R. E. Tipton Speaks

Crosby Hartzell, Shroyer-Frank campaign manager in this county, presided at the opening of the program and presented Robert E. Tip- tion, local USWV officer, who spoke of Shroyer's war record and his ser- vices to veterans and veterans' pro- grams.

Hartzell announced the appoint- ment of George W. Naugle as treas- urer and Melvin Little as secretary for the Shroyer-Frank organization in the county.

About 40 persons attended the din- ner and reception. The group in- cluded county officials, a number of highway department employes and others previously identified with the "regular" GOP organization here.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE STONE DIES SUDDENLY

By PAUL M. YOST
Washington, April 23 (AP)—Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone's sudden death cut the disagreeing supreme court to a seven-man tribunal today and stirred wide speculation on President Truman's possible choice for the nation's highest judicial place.

The hard-working, 73-year-old Stone fired two dissenting opinions at his colleagues in a prolonged court session yesterday, then faltered over the first of three majority opinions he had prepared. He paled and his first words trailed off.

Abruptly the court session was halted. Doctors found Stone nauseated. They said he had indigestion. He was taken home. A few hours later his secretary announced his death from "a massive cerebral hemorrhage."

Mr. Truman, who was aboard the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, when he learned of the chief justice's death, termed it "a grievous loss to the country."

May Name GOP

The first wave of speculation touched off by Stone's death centered on the possibility that Mr. Truman might designate a Republican to fill the court vacancy but elevate one of the seven Democrats now on the bench to chief justice.

Among the latter, Associate Justices William O. Douglas, Robert J. Jackson and Felix Frankfurter were mentioned most prominently and in that order. Other Democrats on the bench are Hugo Black, who now is first in seniority; Stanley P. Reed, Frank Murphy and Wiley Rutledge.

Talk of Republican candidates for the tribunal usually started off with the name of Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

The last task Stone completed on the high bench yesterday—the reading of a dissenting opinion—was symbolic of some of the court work which won him greatest fame.

A prolific dissenter in his 21 years on the bench, Stone had the perhaps unprecedented privilege of seeing two of his dissenting opinions later become the law of the land.

2 Dissenting Votes

In one of these he opposed the majority's reasoning that school children could be forced to salute the flag. Later the court said saluting could not be required.

In the other, the court eventually accepted his view that city ordinances imposing a tax on sale of religious literature violated the constitutional right of freedom of religion.

Stone's support of President Roosevelt's early New Deal legislation in bitter legal controversies before the high tribunal gained for him the reputation of being a "liberal."

Mr. Roosevelt, a Democrat, later elevated the New Hampshire Republican to chief justice. He took the presiding seat on Oct. 6, 1941.

Stone's death now leaves to another Democratic president the selection of a court leader.

On the day of the chief justice's death the court made known it was unable to agree on four more cases on which it had heard argument. This indicated 4-to-4 splits. The court now has stalled in this manner on 16 cases. It called for re-argument on each after Jackson's return from Nuernburg where he has been prosecuting Nazi war criminals.

DDT—WARNINGS AND PRAISE

Unfortunately, because of its widespread benefits during the war in curbing typhus, malaria and other insect-borne diseases, DDT received too much favorable publicity. As a result it has been erroneously heralded as the wonder-working miracle of insecticides. On the other hand, so many "scare" articles have been written about it by uninformed writers that many persons are now afraid to use it even in roles where it is entirely safe and effective. What are the practical facts about DDT?

First, and too much emphasis cannot be placed on this warning, no farmer, orchardist, vegetable gardener or flower grower can afford to experiment with DDT. It is not a cure-all insecticide. Like most other lethal chemicals, its uses for control of insect pests are limited to a few roles. In no case should it be employed where its effectiveness is not known or its safety well established by tests made under proper scientific supervision. In other words—Don't Experiment with DDT.

Next, it cannot be applied with safety on plants to be used as human food and animal feed—fruits, vegetables whose edible parts grow above the ground, hays, grains and fodders. It should not be applied on surfaces where foods and feeds are likely to come into contact with the toxic residue. And it is important that every person knows the reasons for this warning.

Like most other insecticides, DDT is poisonous. But its menace does not end with the fact that a minute percentage of the spray or dust residue on food or feed will cause illness and perhaps death. Its evils are cumulative. This means, for example, that a person may take a small amount of DDT into his digestive tract today without noticeable ill effects, a little more tomorrow or the next day, and some on following days. Then, quite suddenly, the accumulated affects appear in serious illness.

And the danger is not restricted to taking DDT into the body on food or feed. It can be absorbed through the skin or inhaled with the same injurious results.

Here are six rules for every reader to remember in using or contemplating the use of DDT.

1. Do not apply DDT on plants or parts of plants whose above-the-ground parts are to be used later as food or feed, as the poisonous residue cannot be washed off.

2. Cover the nose and mouth with the so-called "old court"—the judicial body denounced by Mr. Roosevelt in 1937 as "living in the horse and buggy days." Stone could have retired at 70, with full pay of $20,500 a year, but he preferred to stick to what he called "doing business at the old stand." The retired Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and retired Justices Roberts and McReynolds survive Stone.

Mr. Truman's description of Stone as "a great jurist and a great American" was echoed in many other tributes.

Hughes, the retired chief justice, said he was "inexpressibly shocked" and asserted the country had suffered "an irreparable loss."

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic leader of the Senate, said the character of Stone's service "set a noble example for Americans in public and private life."

Death A "Disaster"

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) termed his death "a disaster."

In writing his "liberal" opinions and dissents, Stone took the position that the constitution should not be allowed to bar federal and state experiments in economic and social legislation. He also believed the law to be a human institution which should meet human needs.

Known affectionately to the supreme court staff as "The Chief," Stone loved a measure of fun in the court room.

The chief justice, according to an old story which he never denied, got his start in law because he punched a disarming professor on the nose. Stone had started to study agriculture, but one night a teacher at the college he was attending accused Stone of being a member of a gang which cut some capers on the campus. Stone denied the accusation. The professor called him a liar. Stone swung heavily and went to another college—Amherst.

In Coolidge Cabinet

At Amherst, where he was known to friends as "Slug," Stone met Coolidge, the man who later put him on the supreme court bench in 1925 as an associate justice.

Before his supreme court service Stone spent only 11 months in public office. That was as attorney general in the Coolidge cabinet. Before that he was dean of the Columbia University law school and practiced law in New York city.

This practice led to some criticism when he was appointed to the bench. The critics said then Stone had been a Wall Street lawyer; that he was a member of a firm headed by a son-in-law of J. P. Morgan and that he would be too conservative in his judicial views.
